1. Policy Scope

1. This policy is applicable to all of Emil Dale Academy's (referred to as EDA for the remainder of this policy) staff, freelancers and students involved in the full-time provision and the Part-Time provision (part-time attendees are called "members").

Policy Location

2. This policy will be accessible for reference and is located on EDA's policy website page, under the headings labelled "Degree and Gap / Cert-HE", "Freelancer", "Sixth Form", "Staff", "External visitors" and "Part-Time".

2. Policy Introduction and Aims

3. ICT is an integral part of the way EDA works and is a critical resource for students, freelancers, visitors and staff alike. It supports teaching and learning, pastoral and administrative functions of EDA.
4. However, the ICT resources and facilities that EDA uses could also pose risks to data protection, online safety and safeguarding. Therefore, this policy aims to:
 - a. Set guidelines and rules on the acceptable use of EDA ICT resources for students, part-time members, visitors and staff/ freelancers;
 - b. Establish clear expectations for the way that all members of the EDA community engage with one another online;
 - c. Support EDA's policy on data protection, online safety and safeguarding;
 - d. Prevent disruption to EDA through the misuse, or attempted misuse of ICT systems; and
 - e. Support EDA in teaching students safe and effective internet and ICT use.

2.1 Legal Compliance

5. All use of EDA ICT facilities must comply with UK legislation including but not limited to the Data Protection Act 2018, the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the Computer Misuse Act 1990, and the Protection from Harassment Act 1997.

3. Definitions

3.1 Purpose for permitted use

6. You may use the EDA network and email systems to:
 - a. Conduct solely EDA work;
 - b. Communicate with students, members, freelancers, and staff;
 - a. Any communication between a student and staff member or freelancer should only take place on either the EDA Microsoft Teams channels or by official EDA emails.
 - c. Access material solely for the purpose of conducting EDA work; and
 - d. Download material solely for the purpose of conducting EDA work.

3.2 ICT facilities

7. Includes all facilities, systems and services including but not limited to network infrastructure, desktop computers, laptops, tablets, phones, music players or hardware, software, websites, web applications or services, and any device system or service which may become available in the future which is provided as part of the ICT service.

3.3 Users

8. Anyone authorised by EDA to use the ICT facilities.

9. It is usually expected that Part-Time members will not be asked to access or use ICT systems during their time at Emil Dale Part-Time. However, in the event that this is required or they access the systems through their own means, this policy covers their usage (or misuse) accordingly.

3.4 Personal use

10. Any use or activity not directly related to the users' employment, study or purpose.

3.5 Authorised personnel

11. Employees authorised by EDA to perform systems administration and/or monitoring of the ICT facilities.

3.7 Materials

12. Files and data created using the ICT facilities including but not limited to documents, photos, audio, video, printed output, web pages, social networking sites and blogs.

4. Policy

13. The use of the EDA IT network (including hardware, email, database, computer and software systems - for the purposes of this document, called "the network") must only be used in accordance with the purpose for the permitted use.

4.1 Unacceptable use

14. The following is considered unacceptable use of EDA's ICT facilities by any member of the EDA community. Any breach of this policy may result in disciplinary or behavioural proceedings (see Section 3.3 below). You may not use the network for any of the following purposes:
 - a. Using EDA's ICT facilities to breach intellectual property rights or copyright;
 - b. Using EDA's ICT facilities to bully or harass someone else, or to promote any form of discrimination;
 - c. Breaching any of EDA's policies and/or procedures;
 - d. Any illegal conduct, or statements which are deemed to be advocating illegal activity;
 - e. Accessing, creating, storing, linking or sending material that is pornographic, offensive, obscene or otherwise inappropriate;
 - f. Activity which defames or disparages EDA, or risks bringing EDA into disrepute;
 - g. Activity which aims to manipulate and/or alter assessments, grades or transcripts;
 - h. Sharing confidential information about EDA, its pupils, its staff, or any other member of the EDA community;
 - i. Setting up any software, applications or web services on EDA's network without approval by authorised personnel, or creating or using any program, tool or item of software designed to interfere with the functioning of the ICT facilities, accounts or data;
 - j. Disrupting the work of other users; using the network in a way that denies service to other users (for example, deliberate or reckless overloading of access links or of switching equipment);
 - k. Continuing to use an item of networking software or hardware after a request that use cease because it is causing disruption to the correct functioning of the network;
 - l. Gaining, or attempting to gain, access to restricted areas of the network, or to any password-protected information, without approval from authorised personnel;
 - m. Allowing, encouraging, or enabling others to gain (or attempt to gain) unauthorised access to EDA's ICT facilities;
 - n. Removing, deleting or disposing of ICT equipment, systems, programs, or information without permission by authorised personnel;

- o. Causing a data breach by accessing modifying, or sharing data (including personal data) to which a user is not supposed to have access, or without authorisation;
- p. Using inappropriate or offensive language;
- q. Promoting a private business, unless this has been approved by authorised personnel; and
- r. Using websites or mechanisms to bypass EDA's filtering mechanisms.

15. This is not an exhaustive list. EDA reserves the right to amend this list at any given time.

16. EDA's Senior Management team will use professional judgement to determine whether any act or behaviour not on the list above is considered unacceptable use of EDA's ICT facilities.

4.2 Exceptions from unacceptable use

17. Where the use of EDA ICT facilities is required for a purpose that would otherwise be considered an unacceptable use, exemptions to the policy may be granted at the principal's discretion, e.g. access to materials needed for research that would otherwise be blocked by the filtering system.

4.3 Sanctions

18. Students, part-time members and staff/freelancers who engage in any of the unacceptable activities listed above may face disciplinary action or receive appropriate sanctions in line with EDA's policies.

19. External visitors will be asked to disconnect from EDA's network, and leave any websites that they are browsing. In some cases, external visitors may be asked to leave the premises.

20. Where necessary, and at the sole discretion of EDA, access by an individual or organisation may be withdrawn, either temporarily or indefinitely.

21. In the event of misuse of the network EDA reserves the right to exclude access to any external organisation, or employee, student or member, and in the case of:

- a. Misuse by an employee of EDA, to proceed against that employee under EDA's disciplinary procedures for employees; and
- b. Misuse by a student or member, to proceed against that student in accordance with EDA's Student disciplinary procedures as detailed in the Student Code of Conduct (3 year and 1 year course), Sixth Form Behaviour and Disciplinary Policy and Procedure and Part-Time Behaviour and Disciplinary Policy and Procedure.

22. In the event of misuse of the network, Freelancers may also be at risk of any booked work being revoked, or not being booked for future work.

4.4 Use of phones and email

23. EDA provides each student, staff member, and frequent freelancer with an official EDA email address and access to an EDA specific Microsoft Teams account. These accounts should be used for official EDA purposes only. All EDA-related business should be conducted using the accounts that EDA has provided.

24. Individuals must take care with the content of all EDA emails and Teams posts/comments, as incorrect or improper statements can give rise to claims for discrimination, harassment, defamation, breach of confidentiality or breach of student and/or staff contracts and handbooks.

25. Email messages are required to be disclosed in legal proceedings or in response to requests from individuals under the Data Protection Act 2018 in the same way as paper documentation.

26. Deletion from a user's inbox does not mean that an email cannot be recovered for the purposes of disclosure. All email messages should therefore be treated as potentially retrievable.

27. If an individual receives an email in error, the sender should be informed and the email, deleted. If the email and/or Teams post contains sensitive or confidential information, the user must not make use of that information or disclose that information.
28. If an individual sends a communication in error with contains any form of personal information of another person, they must inform EDA's Data Protection Officer (Sarah Moore) immediately and follow EDA's data breach procedures.
29. Students and members must not give their personal email addresses, phone numbers, or social media handles to staff members or freelancers. Staff members and freelancers, in turn, must not give such information to students or members either.
30. EDA internal phone lines must not be used by staff for personal matters.

4.5 Monitoring of the EDA network and ICT facilities

31. It is beyond the resources and ability of EDA to monitor all activities on the network. However, where there is sound reason to suspect unacceptable use as defined above, EDA reserves the right to inspect a user's material and use history, including email messages, and at its sole discretion block or edit such material as it sees fit.
32. Furthermore, from time to time, EDA may implement technical measures to monitor activity on the network to ensure compliance with the requirements of this Policy and to carry out tests for research purposes.

4.6 Data security

33. EDA takes steps to protect the security of its computing resources, data and user accounts.
34. EDA cannot guarantee security. Students, staff, freelancers, and any other individual who use EDA's ICT facilities should use safe computing practices at all times.

4.6.1 Passwords

35. All users of EDA's ICT facilities should set strong passwords for their accounts and keep these passwords secure. Individuals must not share the passwords for any of their EDA accounts.
36. Account owners are held responsible for all activities and content associated with their accounts.
37. Failure to conform to these requirements may lead to the suspension of account privileges or other actions as provided by the appropriate EDA policy or procedure.
38. If an individual believes that someone else is accessing their account, they must report this immediately to their Line Manager, a relevant point of contact, or Course Leader.

4.6.2 Access to facilities and materials

39. Users should always log out of systems and lock their equipment when they are in use to avoid any unauthorised access.
40. Equipment and systems should always be logged out of and closed down completely at the end of each working day.

4.6.3 Personal devices

41. Personal devices used for EDA purposes (BYOD) must meet the same security standards as EDA-issued equipment.
42. These devices must not store sensitive data unless encrypted and approved by authorised personnel.
43. Users must ensure secure network connections and use EDA-approved platforms.
